Drop in rural crime revealed in new study

RURAL crime across the Thames Valley dropped by 19 per cent, figures revealed on Monday.

The dip compares to a national average of a 5.2 per cent increase, data by rural insurance company NFU Mutual shows.

It also revealed rural crime cost the Oxfordshire economy an estimated £680,000 in 2013.

This is down from the £1million figure for 2012.

It comes after the Thames Valley Police launched a '100 Days of Action' campaign last year, focused on tackling issues of rural crime.

Thames Valley Police and Crime Commissioner Anthony Stansfeld said: "I made rural crime one of my key priorities and in doing so highlighted the impact it has on isolated and vulnerable rural communities.

"I am delighted the figures show there has been a large reduction in rural crime in the Thames Valley."

Bethany Filmer, NFU Mutual agent in Witney, said: "Our experience with people who live and work in rural areas of Oxfordshire clearly shows theft is more than just a setback - it can be devastating.

"That is why it is important to stay vigilant and fight rural crime."

Hospital show is just what the doctor ordered

YOUNG patients at Oxford Children's Hospital were treated to a swashbuckling adventure last week, when its wards hosted a pantomime of Robinson Crusoe.

The show (pictured below) last Wednesday was set up by charity Starlight.

Christine Turner, play specialist at the hospital, said: "Every year we look forward to Starlight's summer panto, and we simply couldn't wait for the arrival of Robinson

"We know that play can significantly help to improve a child's hospital experience, and the summer panto gave our young patients a chance to enjoy something different and have fun."

Neil Swan, chief executive of Starlight, added: "Activities are aimed at distracting children from the pain and anxiety they might be feeling as a result of their illness.

"Starlight's summer panto is always hugely popular with hospitals and hospices alike, and we hope this performance of Robinson Crusoe was just what the doctor ordered.'

Clubbing app

OXFORD: A nightclub in Oxford has launched a new app that lets visitors pay for drinks with their phone, instead of having to carry money and queue at the bar.

Lava & Ignite, on Park End Street, is using the X-press Drinks app that sees staff bring drinks to the table when an order is placed.

Burglary lies

FOREST HILL: An elderly man was told a dog jumped into his garden before another man burgled jewellery from his home in Main Street last week.

Police are appealing for witnesses to the distraction burglary last Monday, August 4, between 8.45pm and 9pm.

An Asian man aged 30 to 40 knocked on his door and asked the victim to look for his dog.

While he did, a second man stole a gold pocket watch, a pair of earrings, a gold necklace and a 1914 sovereign coin.

Went the victim returned he saw him run out his home. The pair fled in a large black car.

The first man was 5ft tall of a medium build, and had short black hair with small curls in a crescent across his forehead. He wore a dark red t-shirt, and dark trousers, after changing from wearing a white t-shirt when he approached the house.

The second man is white, around 5ft 8ins to 5ft 10ins of a thin build, with light hair and a young face. He wore a yellow and blue t-shirt.

Bid for £1.2m

OXON: A group made up of Oxfordshire's community, private and public sectors is bidding for £1.2million of funding to be used for rural projects across the county.

The Local Action Group is seeking residents' views as it puts together a draft strategy of what projects could benefit from the money.

The consultation - at southernoxfordshireleader.org.uk - ends on August 22.

Looking for care and/or assistance within your own home? Are you self-funding?

Many people use domiciliary care agencies to receive care at home, however this isn't the only option. You could also consider employing your own carer or personal assistant through My Care My Home.

The advantages of employing your own carer/personal assistant directly:

- You have the same carer(s) consistently who you have chosen and you like their manner and personality and are confident in their competence.
- Their loyalty is to you personally and they become committed to you and your welfare at all times.
- The pay they receive from you can be better than that received from a Care Agency. This can also attract carers with more experience and/or higher qualifications.
- You can agree with them just exactly when and how you want your care delivered, what you want them to do, and how you want them to do it.

How can My Care My Home help you?

If you want to employ your own care staff directly My Care My Home can support you by handling employment matters such as:

- Job description and advertisement.
- Shortlisting applicants. Arranging and conducting interviews with you in your own home.
- Obtaining necessary documentation such as references, disclosure and barring service, copies of qualifications, etc.
- Managing the payroll and ensuring that tax, NI, and other deductions are made correctly and the carer paid on the agreed dates.
- Providing monthly visits to monitor the performance of your carer(s) to ensure you are happy with the service you are receiving.

For more information about this service, or any of the other services that My Care My Home provides, then please call 0800 731 8470 to speak to one of our care advisors or on Freephone 0800 731 8470, We will be happy to help you.

"We were lucky that the passengers were genuinely going to Wilderness, so

"This gave me the perfect opportunity to warm up for the gig and the crowd on the train were great - everyone was really up for it."

Last weekend was Jack's third visit to the Wilderness Festival, where he performed a selection of older tracks and new material.

Jack added that Wilderness was one of his favourite festivals, and praised the diverse mix of entertainment on offer at the Cornbury Park site.

"It's not just a festival where you go to see the latest hot thing, it's a festival where people who love music discover many other things, like theatre productions and book readings," he said.

"There's something about the vibe as well that's really good, and all the people seem to be really nice.

"Îve had completely different experiences too because I've played on different stages, and Burt Bacharach was playing this year so that was pretty exciting."

Jack is currently working on a new album to be released early next year.

VIN Tickets to Twelfth Night at Oxford Castle Unlocked

Celebrating 450 years since the birth of the Bard and to launch a brave new annual season of popular plays by English playwrights, Oxford Castle Quarter will host Twelfth Night in an unprecedented co-production with the English Repertory Theatre, to be presented open air on the Castle Mound and in the Exercise Yard and directed by Gavin Davis from July until September this year.

With a new space, holding up to 700 audience members, set within the Castle complex with the huge Oxford Castle mound forming the backdrop of Illyria, Twelfth Night leaves it's traditional Christmas slot and jumps with a huge splash into the Summer Fete hosted by the local dignitaries. Set on the Cornish coast at Orsino's stately home, this vivid, outrageous comedy grabs identical twins from the sea to turn them loose on society with designs on marrying well, disguises sea captains as fools, finds love, drunkenness, debauchery and the return of the conga to the ballroom. Whilst never losing sight of the glorious verse be warned, if you sit in the front row you will get wet.

quial freshness and promises to serve up a historical comedy for a contemporary audience, with a refreshing modern delivery. Working with the Folio, he has discovered new parallels that have afforded a completely new take on the twins and Antonio, providing new twists and riotous adventure that should prove a historical first. With the huge support of Oxford Castle Unlocked, the Tourist Board (VisitOxfordshire), Oxford Castle Quarter and Malmaison, audiences are invited to join a cast of extraordinary characters in the Oxford Castle Quarter in this fast paced comedy that brings the Bard to bear.

An ensemble of just 10 actors will take the audience through this dazzling adventure comedy and welcome back to Oxford, Jack Taylor (Fat Christ / Merry Wives of Windsor) who appeared as a most crowd pleasing Falstaff last year.

We have 3 sets of prizes to give away. Each consists of 4 tickets, a bottle of wine and nibbles, and behind the scenes access to the actors after the show. You can chose the show you wish to attend between Friday, August 22 and Friday September 5th.

To be in with a chance of winning just answer this simple question:

Have you got The Letting Factor?

It seems as though one day the news says property prices are going up, the next day, set to fall. It is hard to know where you are in this market and that is why a lot of property owners are turning to letting instead.

Renting out your house can seem like a good idea, until you investigate what it takes to manage the property.

But fear not! A new company is here to help cut through all the demands of renting your house.

Although it is a brand new concept, the aim of The Letting Factor, a new company based in Oxford, is simple. The company has gathered together experts with a combined 50 years' experience in commercial and residential lettings which they use to provide an effective yet low cost management service. By getting the best, The Letting Factor can offer an experienced and streamlined service that won't cost the earth.

When you contact The letting Factor, they will start by looking at your property and giving you an idea of the rental value. When you have decided how much to charge, you can sit back while The Letting Factor advertise the property, arrange viewings and select suitable tenants while also obtaining full references.

16 Aug 2014, 7:45 pm Music at the Barn, Witney STUART RYAN LIVE

Regarded as one of the UK's finest fingerstyle guitarists, Stuart Ryan began his professional career in 2002 when he was awarded Guitarist Magazine's 'Acoustic Guitarist of the Year.' He quickly came to the attention of Martin Taylor MBE, one of the world's leading jazz guitarists, who gave Stuart valuable encouragement and asked him to perform at his Kirkmichael Guitar Festival sharing the bill with leading players Tommy Emmanuel and Bireli Lagrene amongst others. An acclaimed performer, Stuart has gone on to share the stage with many of the world's greatest acoustic guitarists including Martin Taylor MBE, Eric Roche, Thomas Leeb and Jon Gomm, all of whom he is proud to count as friends. Several of Stuart's previous students have also gone on to become prominent players themselves such as Youtube sensation Mike Dawes and 'Acoustic Guitarist of the Year 2011' Will McNicol. Stuart's music has also ended up in some unlikely places - Lamb vocalist/songwriter Lou Rhodes was so impressed with Stuart's study pieces that she used one of them in her track 'Rounds'

DIDCOT URBAN RACE 2014

Run, jog or just walk - this is a fun and exciting event for the Summer Bank Holiday! It's organised by Thames Valley Orienteering Club and is ideal for all ages and abilities - families, children and runners too. An orienteering race does not follow a set route. Instead you have to visit a series of checkpoints and register each one with an electronic timing chip. The checkpoints may be along streets, alleyways, behind bushes in the areas of parkland or even around the Ladygrove lakes. The challenge is to decide what you think the quickest route will be between the checkpoints and then to find your own way along that route using a special orienteering map. The event takes place on Bank Holiday Monday 25 August, around the intricate streets and parkland of the Ladygrove estate. There will be several courses to choose from, ranging from 1km for children in a traffic free area, up to 7km for runners. Help will also be available. Registration and parking will be at Didcot Town FC, Bowmont Water, OX11 7AF. Check out the flyer on our website for more info and entry fees. Just come along on the day between 10am and midday and we'll get you started. Just don't forget your sense of adventure! Please do email us if you have any questions: publicity@

13 Sep 2014, 7:45 pm Music at the Barn, Witney MATT MIDGLEY - LIVE CONCERT

Matt Midgley is a Scottish soloacoustic guitarist, singer and songwriter based in Oxfordshire. His technical percussive guitar skills and alternative folk style create an amazingly unique sound, topped with simple melodies, catchy hooks, and strong Scottish vocals. After a hugely successful 2013 of touring, festival hopping, and collaborating with the likes of Mike Dawes and Thomas Leeb, Matt is currently working on new material which he will be showcasing this

13 Sep 2014, 10:00 am-3:00 pm Music at the Barn, Witney MATT MIDGLEY - GUITAR WORKSHOP

Introduction to percussive guitar. The workshop will be a fully unique and interactive experience. Matt will work intensively with a small number of students (max 15). The workshop will focus on many aspects of percussive guitar and will look at any struggles to employ them in your own playing.

The workshop is suitable for those acoustic guitar players of intermediate to advanced ability (2/3 years playing experience upwards). If you would like a place and to take part in Matt's workshop, you must attend with your acoustic guitar (steel strung), in order for you to play along and take part in the lessons. By booking a place you will also be agreeing that you are the appropriate ability level on your instrument, and that you have some experience reading music notation or Tab. This day long experience will be an exciting opportunity for aspiring percussive guitarists to work closely with a world class teacher and performer.

We expect this event to be very popular and to sell out fast. Book early to avoid disappointment. http://www.musicatthebarn.org/

Skoda's special edition

TWO months ago we featured Skoda's plans to take the world by storm with its latest version of the Fabia.

Now the Czech Republic car manufacturer is at it again, and has unveiled its latest model to hit the market: the is the only gearbox option. Citigo Monte Carlo.

Skoda announced it was expanding its Monte Carlo edition to include the tax, the Monte Carlo's larger wheels Citigo as a result of successful sales.

The Citigo Monte Carlo is based on the mid-range SE trim, but boasts stand-out black detailing including larger 15-inch alloy wheels, front and rear spoilers, a rear mock diffuser, to the world in September 2011 at the grille and door mirrors.

Inside the cabin some changes include a sports steering wheel and the Monte Carlo red and black upholstery.

Skoda's 'Portable Infotainment Device' is also being included as standard, and satellite navigation, trip and vehicle information, Bluetooth connectivity and a media player is on offer.

As with the existing Citigo Sport, the Monte Carlo comes with just one engine option - the cheaper 60-horsepower three-cylinder unit - which gives good fuel economy.

The five-speed manual transmission and £10,940 respectively.

REVIEW: Skoda Fabia

By James Richings

While some Citigo models dip below the 100g/km threshold for free road and lack of an engine stop-start system means that it falls into road tax band B - currently lining the Monte Carlo up for a £20 per year charge.

The Skoda Citigo was first introduced Frankfurt Motor Show, as a rebadged version (along with the SEAT Mii) of the Volkswagen Up.

All three cars have slight modifications to the front and rear sides, because the vehicles were manufactured by the same company - Volkswagen.

Since its release three years ago, the Skoda Citigo has sold more than 80,000 units, while the Up! has sold 248,448 units in Europe alone.

The vehicle comes in both three and five-door versions, but is restricted to petrol only.

They have been priced from £10,590

Easy win for Welsh in Hawks friendly

HEAD coach Justin Burnell described London Welsh's 64-0 By Jack Johnson pre-season victory over Henley jack@taylornewspapers.co.uk Hawks at Dry Leas last weekend as "the first step on the still a lot to work on in respect of ladder".

Ben West (2), Rhys Crane (2), Adam Field, Elliot Kear, Nic Reynolds, Chris Elder (2) and James Lewis all crossed for the Exiles in the 10-try win.

Burnell was satisfied with his side's first pre-season outing and is looking forward to this Sunday's friendly against Aviva Premiership counterparts

"I thought it was a good blow out," said Burnell.

"Wherever you go, to score 10 tries is always pleasing, but the most important factor was keeping the opposition to nil.

"It's the start of the pre-season process, the first step on the ladder, and a bigger challenge in Wasps."

However, Burnell is acutely aware that improvements must be made in time for the Exiles' season opener at home to Exeter Chiefs on September 7.

"To come away with minimum injuries, 10 tries and a clean

Draw means City remain unbeaten

OXFORD City continued their unbeaten start in the Vanarama Conference North after a goalless draw at home to Worcester City on Tuesday night.

After an opening day victory over Hyde last Saturday, Justin Merritt's side were looking for back-to-back wins, but were made to settle for a point in midweek.

City sit ninth in the league table with four points and will look to make it three games unbeaten when they welcome Chorley to Marsh Lane on Saturday.

However, City's good start has come at a price with Darren Mullings and Alejandro Adrian both receiving red cards and midfielder Darren Pond limping off injured.

Mullings was sent off against Hyde while Adrian was dismissed on Tuesday night.
